WE HAVE YOU COVERED!

We offer all flat work around your pool, if you have a new pool or you are looking to renovate an existing pool

“Scenic View did an amazing job renovating the front of our home (landscaping, walkway, driveway) 6 years ago, so when it was time to renovate our backyard, there was only one call to make. We knew we wanted a pool with a nice living space but were otherwise open to ideas. Frank and Chris worked with us and created some very impressive designs. As the project evolved, they would make sure we were given all of our options every step of the way and brought in all of the necessary contractors for the pool, pavilion, irrigation, and electrical work. The result was absolutely off the charts! People have compared our backyard to a five-star resort as just stepping outside gives you the feeling that you have been transported to a vacation destination. I highly recommend Scenic View if you are looking for your project to stand out as they are a class above the rest.” -H.M.

DIFFERENT APPROACHES TO BETTER YARD DRAINAGE

If you can't ignore that soggy spot out back any longer, there are lots of options for improving your yard's drainage. Below are a few traditional ways to drain water. Or you can go with an approach gaining favor and create a rain garden that captures runoff on your property.

HOW MUCH RISE DO YOU NEED?
The general rule is a slope of 1/4 inch per one foot of travel. So when laying a 10-foot pipe, one end should be 1/4 inches higher than the low end. If you are running 80 feet of pipe, your starting point in the back yard should be 10 inches higher than the exit at the curb.

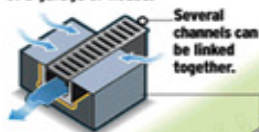

BUILDING A RAIN GARDEN

A rain garden is a low area where water can pool and slowly seep into the ground. If you have a small back yard or live on a slope this is not a good approach, so you will have to use traditional drains to move water off your property.

CHANNEL DRAIN

Used in locations where the surface is sealed — such as tiled patios. Surface grading is not crucial since the drain can extend as wide as necessary to capture the water. Types of channel drains that can be driven over can be install in a driveway to keep water out of a garage or house.

OUTLETS TO THE STREET

USING A POP-UP EMITTER

One of the easiest ways to get rid of water is with a pop-up emitter — a plastic basin that connects to a drain pipe. When water pressure in the pipe builds up, the plastic top lifts just enough to let water flow out. The downside with pop-ups is that it is hard to control where the water ends up. One good spot is next to a driveway, so water will run down the driveway approach and into the street. Pop-ups usually mean you don't have to hassle with tunneling under a sidewalk and you don't have to deal with the expense and hassle of getting a permit to cut the curb.

CUTTING THE CURB

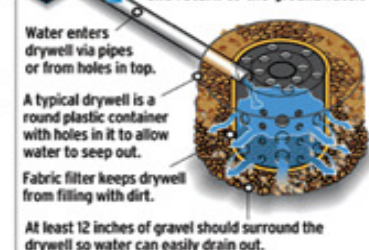

- To be sure the water ends up in the street, you can cut a hole in the curb and put the pipe up to the hole. There are several considerations:
- Curb face must be high enough to allow for a 3-inch hole — usually at least 6 inches high.
 - It's a messy job to tunnel under a sidewalk.
 - Permit is required since you are encroaching on the publicly owned curb — often costing $400-$500.
 - The contractor you hire to cut the curb may get the permit for you — part of his services for the several hundred dollars he is charging.

FILTER DOWNSPOUTS

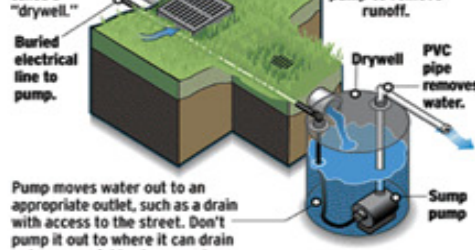

To keep debris from clogging your pipes, consider having the downspout empty onto a catch basin. Large objects, such as leaves, will be filtered out and heavier bits, such as dirt, will sink to the bottom of the basin. Alternatively, you can add clean-out boxes to downspouts — sections of pipe with small grates that catch debris. A small door opens for cleaning.

LEACHING DRYWELL

Similar in concept to the French drain, a leaching drywell is intended to allow water to seep into the soil and return to the groundwater.

Water collects in basins and is piped to a large underground container called a "drywell."

Enlightened Design

Landscape lighting provides beauty, safety and security to your home or business. Scenic View Landscaping incorporates the architectural features of the structure with the beauty of the landscape to come up with a nighttime work of art that will make your home or office as beautiful in the evening as it is during the day.

Low voltage LED lighting is cost effective, safe, and flexible. Low voltage lighting uses half the energy of traditional 120V lights while producing the same amount of candle power. Because low voltage lighting is only 12 volts, it is extremely safe. Wire connections can be made underground and around water without the fear of electrocution.

Low voltage lighting is also extremely flexible because there is no need for electrical conduit and junction boxes that will limit movement of the lights.

WHAT OUR CUSTOMERS ARE SAYING

"I highly recommend working with Scenic View Landscaping. So easy to work with, prompt and efficient. They finished the job so quickly and really transformed our backyard and front yard! Really pleased with the results and overall experience with everyone in the crew." Lindsey - Middletown

"I could not be more happy with what Ryan, John, Mike and the team did to my yard. They transformed dream into a reality. They were very professional and dedicated to making sure everything was perfect. All questions were always addressed right away. There are a lot of companies that are just looking to cash a check, these guys treated it like they were working on their own property. They will do everything they can to work within your budget and give you options. I would highly recommend this company to anyone that is looking to do work on their house." Daniel - Little Silver

"I just had the front of my house landscaped by Scenic View and I couldn't be happier. I met with multiple landscape companies prior to hiring Scenic View and decided to hire them because they took the time to explain the work they were going to perform as well as showing me a 3D design. Ryan is a true gentleman and went above and beyond to ensure we were completely satisfied with the work that was performed. In addition the crew that worked on my house was amazing and they left the house spotless after the job was completed. The job was only completed a few days ago and I already had neighbors stop by and comment how beautiful the front of my house looks. I will absolutely use Scenic View for any future projects and plan on recommending them to my friends and family." Devon - Holmdel

"Thank you Scenic View for a fantastic plan for our major hardscaping and landscaping project that you completed in a timely and professional manner, and at a reasonable cost. We thought we had a good plan, but Ryan, the designer, came up with one that was infinitely better. Ryan stayed with the project every day until completion, Mike also made sure things stayed on track. The crew that did the labor was meticulous and worked incredibly hard. Our tired, 1980's landscaping was transformed by pavers, planting, new grass, and outdoor lighting. We are 100% satisfied with Scenic View Landscaping, and they're nice guys too." Rob - Middletown

"I can't say enough good things about Scenic View. They did our front landscape design and installation about 4 years ago, then a couple years ago, we called them back to install a beautiful paver patio for us and because of how responsive they were and how seamless the project went both times we went back to them to complete our yard landscape and hardscape around a recently installed in-ground pool. The job was completed in November but today was a gorgeous day and I finally had the chance to sit in my backyard and admire and appreciate their work. It's absolutely beautiful. To say I am pleased is an understatement. They listened to the things we wanted and ideas we had and he and his crew brought it to fruition! From the turf installation, to the fire pit to the lighting and landscape... it was all the icing on the cake! Communication was open at all times, his team is professional, knowledgeable, and hard working. I felt the need to share my experience because it is so difficult to find reputable companies whose passion is evident in the work they complete.

Experience the Scenic View Difference

Fantastic design team supported my project from start-to-finish. The crew kept my property clean at the end of each day. The finished product looks exceptional! Would highly recommend Scenic View and would use them again.

Wouldn't choose any other company. Just had Scenic View back to complete a second project and their high level professionalism and quality of work remains!
